FEATURING

fifty progressive years of hard work . . .

We, the ECHO staff of 1977, after much deliberation elected to feature the 1927 yearbook and, in so doing, the class of that year. Fifty years ago was published the first of a succession of yearbooks. The 1927 Echo had much to disclose of that period. As the pages were turned the past began to unfold; the students of that time seemed not so very different from the students of this. Some essential differences, however, are the necessity and the availability of an education today as contrasted with fifty years ago.

Entering the ninth grade in 1923 were 43 students. As the years passed many students dropped out because there was little money, work needed to be done at home, or an education just didn't seem so important. In their final year, those graduating numbered only 19. With such a small class, a good part of the yearbook was dedicated to various pieces of writing. Sections of the publication include the History of the Class, the Class Prophecy, and the Senior Will. The only clubs at this time were the Athletic Association and the Dramatic Club. Both Clubs worked together to produce the operetta "Bits O'Blarney", and the Dramatic Club performed the play "For One Night Only". The Athletic Association consisted of boys playing the only interscholastic sports of basketball and baseball. Although it was their initial year of competition the teams won the majority of their games. An activity for the entire class was the Senior Trip to Washington D.C. during Easter vacation.

What was most impressive was the very personal aspect of the book. Its warmth and closeness showed the widespread feeling of Lyndonville as it was fifty years ago and as it is today.

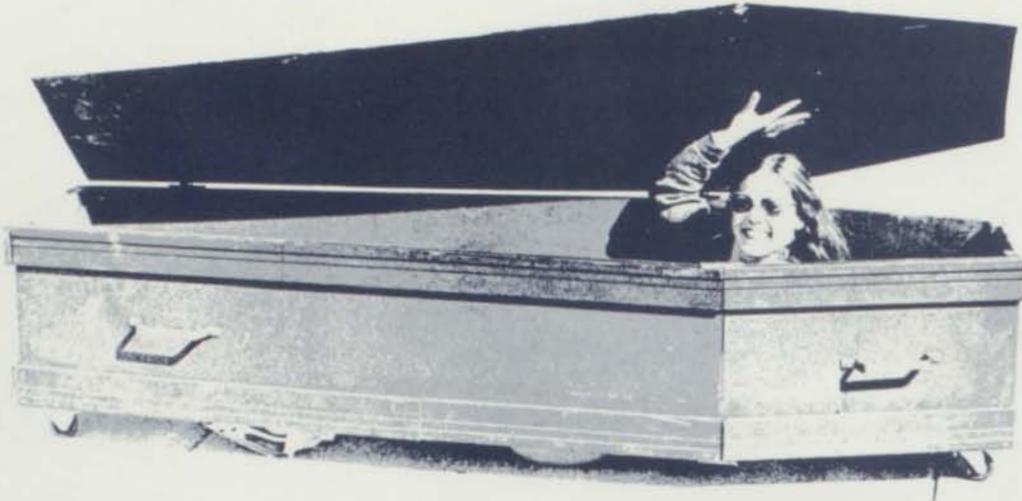

... and this year to prove it:

FALL WEEKEND

was an example of cultured school spirit and

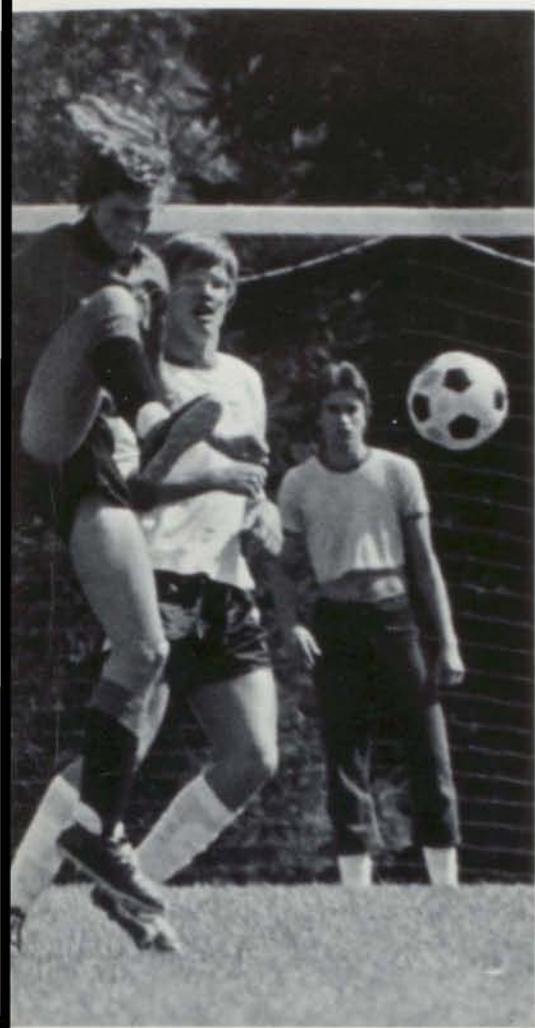

Sept. 24 & 25 were selected this year as "Fall Weekend," a homecoming celebration in honor of our new soccer teams. The cheerleaders sponsored a "Spirit of America" week in which classes competed for the Spirit Stick by wearing unusual outfits. The yearbook staff sponsored an election for King and Queen; students voted for their favorites by dropping pennies into milk jugs. At the pep assembly it was announced that the Sophomores had won the Spirit Stick, and that Curt Follman and Maria Campuzano were to reign as King and Queen. Jim Panek (dressed as a frumpy woman) was given the Best Costume Award (his legs received many whistles).

The game on Saturday was preceded by a parade at 12:00, featuring floats made by the classes. At 1:00 the battle against Byron-Bergen began. Although the Tigers played well the Bees triumphed in the end. A dance that evening, featuring the band "Pax," brought a very successful Fall Weekend to a close.

This year's SENIOR PLAY, "Murder Takes the Veil"

This year's play was "Murder Takes the Veil," by Margaret Ann Hubbard. Practice began in October, and of course was scheduled around games and other practices. At first no one thought the play would ever get off the ground. A decided lack of acting ability was apparent from the start, but each made do with what he had. Other problems were loss of voice, failure to "jump" on lines, crutches, and missing participants. Rehearsals were repeated scenes of laughter, wrong lines, and "instructions" from directors. Behind the curtains, actors and actresses would mumble their lines, "warm their buns" on the heaters, or just mess around.

The final week approached, and still a few didn't know their lines. When the Elementary School performance took place, there was a definite feeling of unpreparedness, but with luck it was successful. This first rendition was the most enjoyable; the young audience gasped appreciatively, and screamed in terror when the killer emerged. On the final night there was a shortage of skirts, the audience misinterpreted a "queer" line, someone was in a nutshell, and one of the male instructors admired something he shouldn't have. Also, furniture moved in the dark, extra noises were difficult to deny, and "Who's there?", followed by "knock knock", made no sense. Even after the play was long over with, everyone incorporated their lines and characters into daily life. "I'm just dead", has never been left uncompleted as another finishes "but honestly dead".

was a screaming success—the “talent” was unmistakable.

The story was set at St. Ann's, a women's college, which had just opened its staff to male members. Helen's murder shattered the school's peace. A billiken and lost habit were the only clues. Trillium's past was connected to the killer's, and she felt threatened. After two more attempted murders, Mr. Archer was mistakenly caught with the habit. The sheriff and his captive left; peace returned to the school. The curtain closed on Trill's scream as the true murderer, Mr. Torvaldson, struck.

My country is Paraguay situated in South America. I live in Asuncion which is the capital with a population of 2 1/2 million. My family consists of my mother, my brother, Jose and two brothers, Raquil and Olga. I like the people of Lyndonville, who are very cordial. I appreciate the help that my teachers have given me, and the friendship that everyone has shown me, and that has made me feel like I've found a second home. I will always remember the happy moments that I have spent in your company. Many thanks to my family, to AFS and to everyone who made my visit possible.

I spent my summer in Kenilworth, England with a wonderful family, the Hawkes. My family included Keith, 15, Stephanie, 16, and Caroline, 18. My mother was a housewife, and my father was a journalist. Caroline had spent the previous year in North Carolina on the AFS program.

Whoever said English is spoken in America has definitely never been to England. I have found that we speak American. Although there was a slight language barrier I managed to have a great time. I met many new people and experiences. I visited Wales, saw castles, hiked, ate, drank tea, went to school, and ate some more. A day never ended without a fun and rewarding experience.

The Lyndonville Tiger Baseball Team of 1975-76, coached by Mr. Hardner, was troubled by weather and injuries all season. However, they still managed to compile a 5-5 league record and proved that team work is a part of baseball. The team represented Lyndonville in the sectionals for the first time in ten years. Even though they were defeated 2-0 by Mt. Morris, the team showed much pride and ability throughout the contest. The season was highlighted by three shutouts including a 4-0 devastation of Pavilion on the last game of the regular season.

The J.V. squad turned in a strong season, putting forth their effort and desire. They proved to everyone that there is a lot to look forward to in future Varsity years.

BOYS' VOLLEYBALL team easily served up a Section V Championship!

An outstanding record was again set by the boys' volleyball team. The fact that they were a very capable unit, combined with confidence and pride made Lyndonville's team the best. Throughout the season, they remained undefeated with a record of 16-0. Continuing on to sectionals the boys met more competition in schools such as Cohocton and Cuba, but still maintained an unblemished composite score. The team won the County Championship and also brought home the Section V trophy. In recent years Lyndonville has repeatedly won county and sectional titles. Mr. Hartsen's coaching and the boys' determination and skill have made volleyball victories an example and a source of pride to the school.

What better way is there to open an article about the 1975-76 softball team than with the outstanding overall record: 8-3. The girls put together a real powerhouse, exhibiting good pitching, fielding, and hitting throughout the season, along with scoring several homeruns. Out of the 3 games lost, 2 were to Kendall, and one was to Holley. All three were close games. One of the most spectacular games of the season was against Byron-Bergen, in which the girls came from behind 3-16 to win in the last inning. They finished the season with a league record of 7-3, placing second in the league.

The girls' basketball season was a learning one for the Varsity, a winning one for the J.V. Varsity's record was 2-9; they defeated Wheatland Chili and Oakfield. Numerous games were excitingly close but too often the team fell short of victory. One such game was the home contest with Pembroke, score 32-33. The J.V. record was a dream come true. As an inexperienced team they were perfection itself. The spectators are becoming more enthused about girls' sports, and together with both girls' teams and the coaches there is almost a crowd.

New this year in the sports line-up was boys' soccer. The Varsity's record was 2-14; the J.V.'s 0-9-1. At the outset both teams had difficulties but as time wore on they began to look much improved. Several fine players emerged and the teams played considerably better, toward the end of the season. An impressive number of fans attended for the games and found each a thrilling experience.

This year's soccer season was a very successful one for the girls. With a league record of four wins, four losses, and two ties and an overall record of 5-4-2, they had their first winning season. Among the games they were proudest of was the tie with league champs, Holley, the home game against Kendall, where the score wasn't very representative of the true struggle, and the impressive victories over Elba, Lyndoville's section rivals. The team seemed a unit with no major weaknesses. This year's progress contributed a great deal to our girls' confidence and athletic reputation.

This year's BOYS' BASKETBALL teams were on the up and up, especially Mid-way into the season, the Boy's Basketball teams showed good records. The week and a half off from school due to the cold, blizzly weather at the end of January caused a few games to be cancelled, and quite a lapse of time from practice. Up until the big freeze, the Varsity team, under the new coaching of Mr. Jones had a 5-6 record. This year the boys gave fans their money's worth at both home and away games, as all were very exciting and displayed skill. Not to be shoved aside, the J.V. team, coached by rookie Serbalik, had a very good record of eight wins and three losses at the same mid-season point.

Also setting up better records, the GIRLS' VOLLEYBALL teams dug in

The girls' Varsity team ended their season 5-5. Although this was not a winning season, it was the best the girls have had. One of the most impressive games was the match against Elba. After losing the first game 0-15, the girls made a tremendous comeback and won the last two games 16-14 and 15-12.

The JV team had a very good season. They came out strong with a 7-3 record. In a close match against Kendall, the girls put up a strong fight with the pressures of overtime and still came out as winners.

Both teams displayed good sportsmanship and good competitive ability throughout the season.

The wrestling season was affected greatly by the adverse weather conditions; it was unlike any other year. In other respects, however, the squad's performance was consistent with that of previous teams. Halfway through the season, the overall record was 6-3, the league, 5-1. One close and exciting match was against Alexander, where the Bagubas managed to win without any pins. And at the Division 11 Championship the boys succeeded in securing the title. The J. Y. team, in other years not victorious, did very well. Although the boys wrestled mainly for experience, several won successively giving them an auspicious future.

The diversity of the Senior Class can be shown as: Marcy on a horse . . .

Jabear's Magic Fingers . . . Kathy laughing . . . Tim making a take down . . .

Maria enjoying the teasing . . . Kathy giving and doing a lot . . .

Carol, athletic . . . Dixie, a tough sportsman . . . Howie in his trucks . . .

Ferg taking it easy . . . Follman: The Morocco Man . . .

Gid, the organist . . . Chris, willing to listen . . . Nola walking Herman . . .

Debs swinging along freely . . . Mariann in control . . .

Laurie talking . . . House saying the right thing at the wrong time . . .

Cindy working at the Parkhouse . . . Debbie, self-contained . . .

Jo Lynn, boppy . . . Mary, fashionable . . . Bob, torpid . . .

John unconcerned . . . Joanne and her questioning . . .

Jerome wearing his jaunty caps . . .

Hope enjoying books . . .

Terri, devoted cheerleader . . .

Patti teaching kids . . .

Dennis thinking for himself . . .

Darlene fiddling with cosmotology . . .

Debbie, 4-H . . .

Mary with basketball height . . .

Amy and her romantic dreams . . .

Mike and his giant smile . . .

Mike, the A.V. man . . .

year of the FADS, STYLES and CRAZES of "76-77"? Anyhow . . .

Dreams, serious thinking vibes are the essence of our MENTAL ACTIVITIES, and when there is an overload, bubbles blow, faces cringe, or eyes shut . . .

But EXPRESSIONS, as communications, have no value if there isn't another body to receive them, which leads to the fact that . . .

TOGETHER, WE'RE GONNA MAKE IT!
